"Winter Wonderland" by Michael Bublé, Felix Bernard and Richard B. Smith co-wrote "Winter Wonderland" in 1934. Since then, it has been covered over 200 times by popular recording artists, such as Frank Sinatra, Elvis Presley, Kylie Minogue, and, of course, Michael Bublé. Play it when you're browsing outdoor Christmas decoration ideas or hanging lights on your house. Workout Your Brain By Learning A New Word Every Day, You Will Get Smarter. Somehow, "Sale El Sol" is a single that takes you back to the original sound of the artist, which is different from the whole mainstream career that Shakira is mostly known for. "When I saw her do a wheelie on a John Deere tractor, I knew right then that I had to have her." "Do You Hear What I Hear?" by Whitney Houston Among the more stunning arrangements of the Christmas classic "Do You Hear What I Hear?" is Whitney Houston's rendition. The song will be a breathtaking addition to your holiday playlist, bringing you back to the heart and soul of the season. "And I can take you for a ride on my big green tractor. We can go slow or make it go faster. Down through the woods and out to the pasture. 'Long as I'm with you it really doesn't matter.".

Streaming music: The number of plays on online radio stations like Pandora, Spotify, Apple Music, Yahoo Music and AOL Music are counted toward the total number of streams. Playing a music video on YouTube also counts as a song play. If You Play Any Musical Instruments, Your Brain Is Very Different From Others'. Workout Your Brain By Learning A New Word Every Day, You Will Get Smarter. Christmas songs for the season. If you start having a hankering for Christmas songs during the fall, you're in good company. For those who love to experience the magic of the winter holiday season, it can be hard to wait until even Thanksgiving to start cranking up those beloved jams. It's the kind of music that takes you back to another place and time, conjures up warm memories of holidays past, and feels like a huge hug from the family and friends you usually gather with at Christmas time. And really, what is Christmas without Bing Crosby or Mariah Carey crooning in the background? A little too much of a silent night, if you ask most people. But although the masses agree that holiday carols are essential, there's a lot of debate about the best Christmas songs. Some people love funny Christmas songs, while others prefer the more religious Christmas songs. And then there are the folks who just live for
